New Name for Translations Team

The IFRS Foundation Translations team recently became the Translation, Adoption & Copyright team, to reflect the work the team does on supporting countries who are adopting IFRS, and on licensing our translations to other organisations for commercial and non-commercial purposes.

Adoption and Translation news

Colombia: the IFRS Foundation has signed a Copyright Waiver Agreement with the INCP (National Institute of Public Accountants) for IFRSs and the IFRS for SMEs. Because of the complicated Colombian legal framework, we have worked with several key institutions in Colombia, including the Ministry of Commerce, Industry and Tourism and the Accountant General's Office, to create a unique solution that has allowed them to adopt the standards and sign the waiver agreement with us within their legal framework. Colombia has adopted the official International Spanish translation of IFRSs into its national law.

Taiwan: the Foundation signed a Copyright Waiver Agreement with the Financial Supervisory Commission (FSC) in 2009. The Accounting Research and Development Foundation (ARDF) carries out the translation into Traditional Chinese and co-ordinates the review. ARDF completed translation of the 2012 Red Book in Q4 2012, and from February 2013 they are commencing translation of new and revised Standards issued by the IASB.

Uzbekistan: the Foundation has signed a Copyright Waiver Agreement with the Central Bank of the Republic of Uzbekistan, the Ministry of Finance of the Republic of Uzbekistan, and the National Association of Accountants and Auditors of Uzbekistan (NAAAUz). NAAAUz is co-ordinating the translation of IFRSs into Uzbek.

What is a Copyright Waiver Agreement?

Signing a Copyright Waiver Agreement is an essential part of adopting IFRSs, where there is a legal requirement to reproduce the IFRSs in legislation, for example, in an official gazette. The agreement is necessary, because the IFRS Foundation owns the copyright to IFRSs, and allows the IFRSs requirements to be translated and published as part of legislation, with no copyright restrictions within that jurisdiction. Signing the agreement is the legal formality required to permit IFRSs to be translated and published as part of legislation. The agreement also sets out the official translation process to be followed.

2012 IFRS Taxonomy Translations

Now that the Hungarian version has recently been released, the IFRS Taxonomy 2012, which represents the IFRSs in XBRL format, is now available in six languages: Arabic, Hungarian, Japanese, Korean, Spanish and Ukrainian. Previous versions of the IFRS taxonomy are also available in Chinese (Simplified and Traditional), Dutch, French, German, Italian and Portuguese.

XBRL (eXtensible Business Reporting Language) is a digital 'language' that was developed to provide a common, electronic format for business and financial reporting. With XBRL, business concepts are tagged in such a way that they are equivalent whatever the language, making it easier to swap from one language to another.
