- Does it make a difference presenting information separately in the primary financial statements rather than presenting it aggregated in the primary financial statements and disclosing it solely in the notes?
- What is the impact of cross-referencing IFRS information outside the financial statements for investors?
- Should 'non-IFRS information' be permitted within the financial statements?
- Alternative (non-IFRS) performance measures in the financial statements: misleading or useful?
- Should EBITDA be permitted or required in the primary financial statements?
- Should unusual and infrequently occurring items be separately presented and if so how?
- How important is the application of materiality when deciding what and how to disclose information?
- Concerns have been raised about the disclosures in IFRS 13 Fair Value Measurement. Do you think the principles in the DP will address those concerns?

- What is your view on the suggested goodwill accretion method?
- How relevant is the quality of the impairment test for you?

16.15 – 17.50 What you need to know about the new IFRS 17

  - What investors and analysts can expect to see in financial statements (P&L, Balance Sheet) once the IFRS 17 is implemented.
  - How this change could affect Life versus Non-Life insurance
  - Relating information from applying IFRS 17 to other information used by analysts, including Embedded Value and Solvency II data.
  - Improved transparency offered to investors by the new “roll-forward” disclosure requirements for the IFRS 17 liability.

Issues suggested to be addressed:

- Does IFRS 17 help financial analysts and investors in comparing financial statements of insurance companies in different countries?
- Are insurance analysts analysing financial information by line of business? How do you split the accounting data below segments in the financial statements?
- Are historical data such as claims ratios useful for analysing life and non-life business?
- Will IFRS 17 provide sufficient information or will users need additional information? If so what additional information?
- Are the main indicators used by analysts to evaluate a non-life business company provided by the IFRS 17 disclosures?
- Do analysts use Embedded Value or MCEV information to evaluate life business? Will analysts continue to use these indicators once IFRS 17 is implemented?
