

STAFF PAPER

Project	Bound Volume
Paper topic	Updating the Preface to IFRS Standards
CONTACT(S)	April Pitman	apitman@ifrs.org	+44 (0)20 7246 6492

This paper has been prepared for discussion at a public meeting of the International Accounting Standards Board® ("the Board") and does not represent the views of the Board or any individual member of the Board. Comments on the application of IFRS® Standard do not purport to set out acceptable or unacceptable application of IFRS Standards. Technical decisions are made in public and reported in IASB Update.

APPENDIX A

[Paragraphs have been re-ordered, and duplicated sentences deleted, to enhance the flow of the document]

Preface to IFRS® Standards

This Preface is issued to explain the scope, authority and timing of application of IFRS Standards. The Preface was most recently amended in [date to be inserted].

The International Accounting Standards Board (Board) was established in 2001. The Board was preceded by the Board of the International Accounting Standards Committee (IASC). When the term IFRS Standards is used in this Preface, it includes Standards and IFRIC Interpretations issued by the Board, and International Accounting Standards (IASs) and SIC Interpretations issued by its predecessor, the IASC.

Standards issued by the Board include paragraphs in bold type and plain type, which have equal authority. Paragraphs in bold type indicate the main principles.

The Conceptual Framework for Financial Reporting (Conceptual Framework) is not a Standard. The Conceptual Framework describes the objective of, and the concepts for, general purpose financial statements and other financial reporting. The purpose of the Conceptual Framework is to:

- (a) assist the Board to develop Standards that are based on consistent concepts;
- (b) assist preparers to develop consistent accounting policies when no Standard applies to a particular transaction or other event, or when a Standard allows a choice of accounting policies; and
- (c) assist all parties to understand and interpret the Standards.

The International Accounting Standards Board is the independent standard-setting body of the IFRS Foundation, a not-for-profit corporation promoting the adoption of International Financial Reporting Standards. For more information visit www.ifrs.org

Agenda ı	ref	28A
----------	-----	-----

IFRS Standards are developed through an international due process set out in the IFRS Foundation Due Process Handbook.

Scope and authority of IFRS Standards

IFRS Standards are designed to apply to the general purpose financial statements and other financial reporting of profit-oriented entities.

The objective of general purpose financial statements is to provide financial information about the reporting entity that is useful to existing and potential investors, lenders and other creditors in making decisions relating to providing resources to the entity.

Other financial reporting comprises information provided outside financial statements that assists in the interpretation of a complete set of financial statements or improves users' ability to make efficient economic decisions.

Profit-oriented entities include those engaged in commercial, industrial, financial and similar activities, whether organised in corporate or in other forms. They include organisations such as mutual insurance companies and other mutual co-operative entities that provide dividends or other economic benefits directly and proportionately to their owners, members or participants.

Although IFRS Standards are not designed to apply to not-for-profit activities in the private sector, public sector or government, entities with such activities may find them appropriate. The International Public Sector Accounting Standards Board (IPSASB) prepares accounting standards for governments and other public sector entities, other than government business entities, based on IFRS Standards.

IFRS Standards set out recognition, measurement, presentation and disclosure requirements dealing with transactions and events that are important in general purpose financial statements. They may also set out such requirements for transactions and events that arise mainly in specific industries.

Some IFRS Standards permit different treatments for given transactions and events. The Board's objective is to require like transactions and events to be accounted for and reported in a like way and unlike transactions and events to be accounted for and reported differently, both within an entity over time and among entities. Consequently, the Board intends not to permit choices in accounting treatment. Also, the Board has reconsidered, and will continue to reconsider, those transactions and events for which IFRS Standards permit a choice of accounting treatment, with the objective of reducing the number of those choices.

Agenda	ref	28A
, igoniaa		_0, \

Timing of application of IFRS Standards

IFRS Standards apply from a date specified in the document. New or revised IFRS Standards set out transitional provisions to be applied on their initial application. Exposure drafts are issued for comment and their proposals are subject to revision. Until the effective date of a Standard, the requirements of any Standard that would be affected by proposals in an exposure draft remain in force.

The Board has no general policy of exempting transactions occurring before a specific date from the requirements of new IFRS Standards. When financial statements are used to monitor compliance with contracts and agreements, a new Standard may have consequences that were not foreseen when the contract or agreement was finalised. For example, covenants contained in banking and loan agreements may impose limits on measures shown in a borrower's financial statements. The Board believes the fact that financial reporting requirements evolve and change over time is well understood and would be known to the parties when they entered into the agreement. It is up to the parties to determine whether the agreement should be insulated from the effects of a future Standard, or, if not, the manner in which it might be renegotiated to reflect changes in reporting rather than changes in the underlying financial condition.

Language

The approved text of any discussion document, exposure draft or Standard is that approved by the Board in the English language. The Board may approve translations in other languages, provided that the translation is prepared in accordance with a process that provides assurance of the quality of the translation, and the Board may license other translations.

APPENDIX B

Preface to International Financial Reporting IFRS Standards (In mark up)

This Preface is issued to set out the objectives and due process of the International Accounting Standards Board and to explain the scope, authority and timing of application of International Financial Reporting Standards. The Preface was approved by the IASB in April 2002 and superseded the Preface published in January 1975 (amended November 1982).

The Preface has been subsequently amended (most recently in December 2016) to reflect changes in the IFRS Foundation's Constitution, changes made by IAS 1 Presentation of Financial Statements (as revised in 2007) and the publication of the Conceptual Framework for Financial Reporting in September 2010.

Section updated:

This Preface is issued to set out the objectives and due process of the International Accounting Standards Board and to explain the scope, authority and timing of application of IFRS Standards International Financial Reporting Standards. The Preface was most recently amended in [date to be inserted]. approved by the IASB in April 2002 and superseded the Preface published in January 1975 (amended November 1982).

The Preface has been subsequently amended (most recently in December 2016) to reflect changes in the IFRS Foundation's1 Constitution, changes made by IAS 1 Presentation of Financial Statements (as revised in 2007) and the publication of the Conceptual Framework for Financial Reporting in September 2010.

1 The International Accounting Standards Board (IASB) was established in 2001 as part of the International Accounting Standards Committee (IASC) Foundation. In 2010 the IASC Foundation was renamed the IFRS Foundation. The governance of the IFRS Foundation rests with twenty-two Trustees. The Trustees' responsibilities include appointing the members of the IASB and associated councils and committees, as well as securing financing for the organisation. The IFRS Foundation's Constitution was revised in December 2016; it reduced the number of Board members from 16 to 14. Approval of International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRSs) and related documents, such as the Conceptual Framework for Financial Reporting, exposure Remove duplication of "Preface to the Constitution":

The International Accounting Standards Board (IASB) (Board) was established in 2001 as part of the International Accounting Standards Committee (IASC) Foundation. In 2010 the IASC Foundation was renamed the IFRS Foundation. The governance of the IFRS Foundation rests with twenty-two Trustees. The Trustees' responsibilities include appointing the members of the IASB and associated councils and committees, as well as securing financing for the organisation. The IFRS Foundation's Constitution was revised in December 2016; it reduced the number of Board members from 16 to 14. Approval of International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRSs) and related documents, such as the Conceptual drafts, and other discussion documents, is the responsibility of the IASB.	Framework for Financial Reporting, exposure drafts, and other discussion documents, is the responsibility of the IASB.

2	The IFRS Interpretations Committee <sup>3</sup> comprises fourteen voting members and a non-voting Chairman, all appointed by the Trustees. The role of the Committee is to prepare interpretations of IFRSs for approval by the IASB and, in the context of the Conceptual Framework, to provide timely guidance on financial reporting issues. The Committee (then called the International Financial Reporting Interpretations Committee) replaced the former Standing Interpretations Committee (SIC) in 2002.	Removes duplication of Constitution, paragraphs 38-42:  The IFRS Interpretations Committee <sup>3</sup> comprises fourteen voting members and a non-voting Chairman, all appointed by the Trustees. The role of the Committee is to prepare interpretations of IFRSs for approval by the IASB and, in the context of the Conceptual Framework, to provide timely guidance on financial reporting issues. The Committee (then called the International Financial Reporting Interpretations Committee) replaced the former Standing Interpretations Committee (SIC) in 2002.
3	The IFRS Advisory Council <sup>4</sup> is appointed by the Trustees. It provides a formal vehicle for participation by organisations and individuals with an interest in international financial reporting. The participants have diverse geographical and functional backgrounds. The Council's objective is to give advice to the IASB on priorities, agenda decisions and on major standard-setting projects.	Removes duplication of Constitution, paragraphs 43-45:  The IFRS Advisory Council <sup>4</sup> is appointed by the Trustees. It provides a formal vehicle for participation by organisations and individuals with an interest in international financial reporting. The participants have diverse geographical and functional backgrounds. The Council's objective is to give advice to the IASB on priorities, agenda decisions and on major standard-setting projects.
4	The IASB was preceded by the Board of IASC, which came into existence on 29 June 1973 as a result of an agreement by professional accountancy bodies in Australia, Canada, France, Germany, Japan, Mexico, the Netherlands, the United Kingdom and Ireland, and the United States of America. A revised Agreement and Constitution were signed in November 1982. The Constitution was further revised in October 1992 and May 2000 by the IASC Board. Under the May 2000 Constitution, the professional	Updated: The IASB Board was preceded by the Board of the International Accounting Standards Committee (IASC), which came into existence on 29 June 1973as a result of an agreement by professional accountancy bodies in Australia, Canada, France, Germany, Japan, Mexico, the Netherlands, the United Kingdom and Ireland, and the United States of America. A revised Agreement and Constitution were signed in November 1982. The Constitution was accountancy bodies adopted a mechanism enabling the appointed Trustees to put the May 2000 Constitution into force. The Trustees activated the new Constitution in January 2001, and revised it in March 2002.<sup>5</sup> further revised in October 1992 and May 2000 by the IASC Board. Under the May 2000 Constitution, the professional accountancy bodies adopted a mechanism enabling the appointed Trustees to put the May 2000 Constitution into force. The Trustees activated the new Constitution in January 2001, and revised it in March 2002.5

At its meeting on 20 April 2001 the IASB passed the following resolution:

All Standards and Interpretations issued under previous Constitutions continue to be applicable unless and until they are amended or withdrawn. The International Accounting Standards Board may amend or withdraw International Accounting Standards and SIC Interpretations issued under previous Constitutions of IASC as well as issue new Standards and Interpretations.

When the term IFRSs is used in this Preface, it includes standards and Interpretations approved by the IASB, and International Accounting Standards (IASs) and SIC Interpretations issued under previous Constitutions.

Updated:

At its meeting on 20 April 2001 the IASB passed the following resolution:

All Standards and Interpretations issued under previous Constitutions_continue to be applicable unless and until they are amended or withdrawn. The International Accounting Standards Board may amend or withdraw International Accounting Standards and SIC Interpretations issued under previous Constitutions of IASC as well as issue new Standards and Interpretations.

When the term IFRSs Standards is used in this Preface, it includes Standards and IFRIC Interpretations approved issued by the Board IASB, and International Accounting Standards (IASs) and SIC Interpretations issued by its predecessor the IASC.

6 Objectives of the IASB

The objectives of the IASB are:

(a) to develop, in the public interest, a single set of high quality, understandable, enforceable and globally accepted financial reporting standards based on clearly articulated principles. These standards should require high quality, transparent and comparable information in financial statements and other financial reporting to help investors, other participants in the various capital markets of the world and other users of financial information make economic decisions;

Duplicates Constitution, paragraphs 1-2

Objectives of the IASB

The objectives of the IASB are:(a) to develop, in the public interest, a single set of high quality, understandable, enforceable and globally accepted financial reporting standards based on clearly articulated principles. These standards should require high quality, transparent and comparable information in financial statements and other financial reporting to help investors, other participants in the various capital markets of the world and other users of financial information make economic decisions;

- (b) to promote the use and rigorous application of those standards;
- (c) in fulfilling the objectives associated with (a) and (b), to take account of, as appropriate, the needs of a range of sizes and types of entities in diverse economic settings;
- (d) to promote and facilitate the adoption of IFRSs, being the standards and interpretations issued by the IASB, through the convergence of national accounting standards and IFRSs.
- (b) to promote the use and rigorous application of those standards;
- (c) in fulfilling the objectives associated with (a) and (b), to take account of, as appropriate, the needs of a range of sizes and types of entities in diverse economic settings;
- (d) to promote and facilitate the adoption of IFRSs, being the standards and interpretations issued by the IASB, through the convergence of national accounting standards and IFRSs.

7 Scope and authority of International Financial Reporting Standards

The IASB achieves its objectives primarily by developing and publishing IFRSs and promoting the use of those standards in general purpose financial statements and other financial reporting. Other financial reporting comprises information provided outside financial statements that assists in the interpretation of a complete set of financial statements or improves users' ability to make efficient economic decisions. In developing IFRSs, the IASB works with national standard-setters to promote and facilitate adoption of IFRSs through convergence of national accounting standards and IFRSs.

Updated:

Scope and authority of International Financial Reporting IFRS Standards

The Board issues IFRS Standards for useIASB achieves its objectives primarily by developing and publishing IFRSs and promoting the use of those standards in general purpose financial statements and other financial reporting. Other financial reporting comprises information provided outside financial statements that assists in the interpretation of a complete set of financial statements or improves users' ability to make efficient economic decisions. In developing IFRSs, the IASB works with national standard-setters to promote and facilitate adoption of IFRSs through convergence of national accounting standards and IFRSs.

IFRSs set out recognition, measurement, presentation and disclosure requirements dealing with transactions and events that are important in general purpose financial statements. They may also set out such requirements for transactions and events that arise mainly in specific industries. IFRSs are based on the Conceptual Framework, which addresses the concepts underlying the information presented in general purpose financial statements. Although the

8

Updated:

IFRSs Standards set out recognition, measurement, presentation and disclosure requirements dealing with transactions and events that are important in general purpose financial statements. They may also set out such requirements for transactions and events that arise mainly in specific industries. IFRSs Standards are based on the The Conceptual Framework describes the objective of, and the concepts for, general purpose financial Conceptual Framework was not issued until September 2010, it was developed from the previous Framework for the Preparation and Presentation of Financial Statements, which the IASB adopted in 2001. The objective of the Conceptual Framework is to facilitate the consistent and logical formulation of IFRSs. The Conceptual Framework also provides a basis for the use of judgement in resolving accounting issues.

statements and other financial reporting. which addresses the concepts underlying the information presented in general purpose financial statements. Although the Conceptual Framework was not issued until September 2010, it was developed from the previous Framework for the Preparation and Presentation of Financial Statements, which the IASB adopted in 2001. The purpose objective of the Conceptual Framework is to:

- (a) assist the Board to develop Standards that are based on consistent concepts;
- (b) assist preparers to develop consistent accounting policies when no Standard applies to a particular transaction or other event, or when a Standard allows a choice of accounting policies; and
- (c) assist all parties to understand and interpret the Standards.
  facilitate the consistent and logical formulation of IFRSs Standards. The Conceptual Framework also provides a basis for the use of judgement in resolving accounting issues.
- 9 IFRSs are designed to apply to the general purpose financial statements and other financial reporting of profit-oriented entities. Profit-oriented entities include those engaged in commercial, industrial, financial and similar activities, whether organised in corporate or in other forms. They include organisations such as mutual insurance companies and other mutual co-operative entities that provide dividends or other economic benefits directly and proportionately to their owners, members or participants. Although IFRSs are not designed to apply to not-for-profit activities in the private sector, public sector or government, entities with such activities may find them appropriate. The International

Updated:

IFRSs Standards are designed to apply to the general purpose financial statements and other financial reporting of profit-oriented entities. Profit-oriented entities include those engaged in commercial, industrial, financial and similar activities, whether organised in corporate or in other forms. They include organisations such as mutual insurance companies and other mutual co-operative entities that provide dividends or other economic benefits directly and proportionately to their owners, members or participants. Although IFRSs Standards are not designed to apply to not-for-profit activities in the private sector, public sector or government, entities with such activities may find them appropriate. The International Public Sector Accounting Standards Board (IPSASB) prepares accounting standards for governments and other public sector entities, other than government business entities, based on IFRSs Standards.

Public Sector Accounting Standards Board (IPSASB) prepares accounting standards for governments and other public sector entities, other than government business entities, based on IFRSs.

statements. Such financial statements are directed towards the common information needs of a wide range of users, for example, shareholders, creditors, employees and the public at large. The objective of financial statements is to provide information about the financial position, performance and cash flows of an entity that is useful to those users in making economic decisions.

Updated:

IFRSs Standards apply to all general purpose financial statements. Such financial statements are directed towards the common information needs of a wide range of users, for example, shareholders, creditors, employees and the public at large. The objective of general purpose financial statements is to provide financial information about the reporting entity that is useful to existing and potential investors, lenders and other creditors in making decisions relating to providing resources to the entity. financial statements is to provide information about the financial position, performance and cash flows of an entity that is useful to those users in making economic decisions.

11 A complete set of financial statements includes a statement of financial position, a statement of comprehensive income, a statement of changes in equity, a statement of cash flows, and accounting policies and explanatory notes. When a separate income statement is presented in accordance with IAS 1 Presentation of Financial Statements (as revised in 2007), it is part of that complete set. In the interest of timeliness and cost considerations and to avoid repeating information previously reported, an entity may provide less information in its interim financial statements than in its annual financial statements, IAS 34 Interim Financial Reporting prescribes the minimum content of complete or condensed financial statements for an interim period. The term 'financial statements' includes a complete set

Duplicates IAS 1 and IAS 34:

A complete set of financial statements includes a statement of financial position, a statement of comprehensive income, a statement of changes in equity, a statement of cash flows, and accounting policies and explanatory notes. When a separate income statement is presented in accordance with IAS 1 Presentation of Financial Statements (as revised in 2007), it is part of that complete set. In the interest of timeliness and cost considerations and to avoid repeating information previously reported, an entity may provide less information in its interim financial statements than in its annual financial statements, IAS 34 Interim Financial Reporting prescribes the minimum content of complete or condensed financial

	of financial statements prepared for an interim or annual period, and condensed financial statements for an interim period.	statements for an interim period. The term 'financial statements' includes a complete set of financial statements prepared for an interim or annual period, and condensed financial statements for an interim period.
12	Some IFRSs permit different treatments for given transactions and events. The IASB's objective is to require like transactions and events to be accounted for and reported in a like way and unlike transactions and events to be accounted for and reported differently, both within an entity over time and among entities. Consequently, the IASB intends not to permit choices in accounting treatment. Also, the IASB has reconsidered, and will continue to reconsider, those transactions and events for which IFRSs permit a choice of accounting treatment, with the objective of reducing the number of those choices.	Updated:  Some IFRSs Standards permit different treatments for given transactions and events. The IASBBoard's objective is to require like transactions and events to be accounted for and reported in a like way and unlike transactions and events to be accounted for and reported differently, both within an entity over time and among entities. Consequently, the IASBBoard intends not to permit choices in accounting treatment. Also, the IASBBoard has reconsidered, and will continue to reconsider, those transactions and events for which IFRSs Standards permit a choice of accounting treatment, with the objective of reducing the number of those choices.
13	Standards approved by the IASB include paragraphs in bold type and plain type, which have equal authority. Paragraphs in bold type indicate the main principles. An individual standard should be read in the context of the objective stated in that standard and this Preface.	Updated:  Standards approved-issued by the IASB Board include paragraphs in bold type and plain type, which have equal authority. Paragraphs in bold type indicate the main principles. An individual standard should be read in the context of the objective stated in that standard and this Preface.
14	Interpretations of IFRSs are prepared by the Interpretations Committee to give authoritative guidance on issues that are likely to receive divergent or unacceptable treatment, in the absence of such guidance.	Paragraph 38 of Constitution deals with IC: Interpretations of IFRSs are prepared by the Interpretations Committee to give authoritative guidance on issues that are likely to receive divergent or unacceptable treatment, in the absence of such guidance.
15	IAS 1 (as revised in 2007) includes the following requirement:	Duplicates IAS 1:

An entity whose financial statements comply with IFRSs shall make an explicit and unreserved statement of such compliance in the notes. An entity shall not describe financial statements as complying with IFRSs unless they comply with all the requirements of IFRSs.

IAS 1 (as revised in 2007) includes the following requirement:

An entity whose financial statements comply with IFRSs shall make an explicit and unreserved statement of such compliance in the notes. An entity shall not describe financial statements as complying with IFRSs unless they comply with all the requirements of IFRSs.

Any limitation of the scope of an IFRS is made clear in the standard.

Scope is defined in each Standard.

Any limitation of the scope of an IFRS is made clear in the standard.

17 | Due process

IFRSs are developed through an international due process that involves accountants, financial analysts and other users of financial statements, the business community, stock exchanges, regulatory and legal authorities, academics and other interested individuals and organisations from around the world. The IASB consults, in public meetings, the Advisory Council on major projects, agenda decisions and work priorities, and discusses technical matters in meetings that are open to public observation. Due process for projects normally, but not necessarily, involves the following steps (the steps that are required under the terms of the IFRS Foundation's Constitution are indicated by an asterisk*):

- (a) the staff are asked to identify and review all the issues associated with the topic and to consider the application of the Conceptual Framework to the issues;
- (b) study of national accounting requirements and practice and an exchange of views about the issues with national standard-setters:
- (c) consulting the Trustees and the Advisory Council about the advisability of adding the topic to the IASB's agenda;*6

Covered by the DPH:

Due Process

IFRSs-Standards are developed through an international due process set out in the IFRS Foundation Due Process Handbook. that involves accountants, financial analysts and other users of financial statements, the business community, stock exchanges, regulatory and legal authorities, academics and other interested individuals and organisations from around the world. The IASB consults, in public meetings, the Advisory Council on major projects, agenda decisions and work priorities, and discusses technical matters in meetings that are open to public observation. Due process for projects normally, but not necessarily, involves the following steps (the steps that are required under the terms of the IFRS Foundation's Constitution are indicated by an asterisk*):

- (a) the staff are asked to identify and review all the issues associated with the topic and to consider the application of the Conceptual Framework to the issues:
- (b) study of national accounting requirements and practice and an exchange of views about the issues with national standard setters;

- (d) formation of an advisory group to give advice to the IASB on the project;
- (e) publishing for public comment a discussion document;
- (f) publishing for public comment an exposure draft (including any dissenting opinions held by IASB members) approved by at least eight votes of the IASB if there are fewer than fourteen members, or by nine of its members if there are fourteen members;*
- (g) normally publishing with an exposure draft a basis for conclusions and the alternative views of any IASB member who opposes publication;*
- (h) consideration of all comments received within the comment period on discussion documents and exposure drafts;*
- (i) consideration of the desirability of holding a public hearing and of the desirability of conducting field tests and, if considered desirable, holding such hearings and conducting such tests;
- (j) approval of a standard by at least eight votes of the IASB if there are fewer than fourteen members, or by nine of its members if there are fourteen members;* and
- (k) publishing with a standard (i) a basis for conclusions, explaining, among other things, the steps in the IASB's due process and how the IASB dealt with public comments on the exposure draft, and (ii) the dissenting opinion of any IASB member.*

- (c) consulting the Trustees and the Advisory Council about the advisability of adding the topic to the IASB's agenda;*6
- (d) formation of an advisory group to give advice to the IASB on the project;
- (e) publishing for public comment a discussion document:
- (f) publishing for public comment an exposure draft (including any dissenting opinions held by IASB members) approved by at least eight votes of the IASB if there are fewer than fourteen members, or by nine of its members if there are fourteen members;*
- (g) normally publishing with an exposure draft a basis for conclusions and the alternative views of any IASB member who opposes publication;*
- (h) consideration of all comments received within the comment period on discussion documents and exposure drafts;*
- (i) consideration of the desirability of holding a public hearing and of the desirability of conducting field tests and, if considered desirable, holding such hearings and conducting such tests;
- (j) approval of a standard by at least eight votes of the IASB if there are fewer than fourteen members, or by nine of its members if there are fourteen members;* and
- (k) publishing with a standard (i) a basis for conclusions, explaining, among other things, the steps in the IASB's due process and how the IASB dealt with public comments on the exposure draft, and (ii) the dissenting opinion of any IASB member.*
- 18 Interpretations of IFRSs are developed through an international due process that involves accountants, financial analysts and other users of financial statements, the business community, stock exchanges,

Covered by the DPH:

Interpretations of IFRSs are developed through an international due process that involves accountants, financial analysts and regulatory and legal authorities, academics and other interested individuals and organisations from around the world. The Interpretations Committee discusses technical matters in meetings that are open to public observation. The due process for each project normally, but not necessarily, involves the following steps (the steps that are required under the terms of the IFRS Foundation's Constitution are indicated by an asterisk*):

- (a) the staff are asked to identify and review all the issues associated with the topic and to consider the application of the Conceptual Framework to the issues:
- (b) consideration of the implications for the issues of the hierarchy of IAS 8 Accounting Policies, Changes in Accounting Estimates and Errors:
- (c) publication of a draft Interpretation for public comment if no more than four Committee members have voted against the proposal;*
- (d) consideration of all comments received within the comment period on a draft Interpretation;*
- (e) approval by the Interpretations Committee of an Interpretation if no more than four Committee members have voted against the Interpretation after considering public comments on the draft Interpretation;* and other users of financial statements, the business community, stock exchanges, regulatory and legal authorities, academics and other interested individuals and organisations from around the world. The Interpretations Committee discusses technical matters in meetings that are open to public observation. The due process for each project normally, but not necessarily, involves the following steps (the steps that are required under the terms of the IFRS Foundation's Constitution are indicated by an asterisk*):
- (f) approval of the Interpretation by at least eight votes of the IASB if there are fewer than fourteen members, or by nine of its members if there are fourteen members.*

- (a) the staff are asked to identify and review all the issues associated with the topic and to consider the application of the Conceptual Framework to the issues:
- (b) consideration of the implications for the issues of the hierarchy of IAS 8 Accounting Policies, Changes in Accounting Estimates and Errors;
- (c) publication of a draft Interpretation for public comment if no more than four Committee members have voted against the proposal;*
- (d) consideration of all comments received within the comment period on a draft Interpretation;*
- (e) approval by the Interpretations Committee of an Interpretation if no more than four Committee members have voted against the Interpretation after considering public comments on the draft Interpretation;* and
- (f) approval of the Interpretation by at least eight votes of the IASB if there are fewer than fourteen members, or by nine of its members if there are fourteen members.

19 Timing of application of International Financial Reporting Standards

IFRSs apply from a date specified in the document. New or revised IFRSs set out

Updated:

Timing of application of IFRS

International Financial Reporting Standards

	transitional provisions to be applied on their initial application.	IFRSs Standards apply from a date specified in the document. New or revised IFRSs Standards set out transitional provisions to be applied on their initial application.
20	The IASB has no general policy of exempting transactions occurring before a specific date from the requirements of new IFRSs. When financial statements are used to monitor compliance with contracts and agreements, a new IFRS may have consequences that were not foreseen when the contract or agreement was finalised. For example, covenants contained in banking and loan agreements may impose limits on measures shown in a borrower's financial statements. The IASB believes the fact that financial reporting requirements evolve and change over time is well understood and would be known to the parties when they entered into the agreement. It is up to the parties to determine whether the agreement should be insulated from the effects of a future IFRS, or, if not, the manner in which it might be renegotiated to reflect changes in reporting rather than changes in the underlying financial condition.	The Board IASB has no general policy of exempting transactions occurring before a specific date from the requirements of new IFRSs Standards. When financial statements are used to monitor compliance with contracts and agreements, a new IFRS Standard may have consequences that were not foreseen when the contract or agreement was finalised. For example, covenants contained in banking and loan agreements may impose limits on measures shown in a borrower's financial statements. The Board IASB believes the fact that financial reporting requirements evolve and change over time is well understood and would be known to the parties when they entered into the agreement. It is up to the parties to determine whether the agreement should be insulated from the effects of a future IFRS Standard, or, if not, the manner in which it might be renegotiated to reflect changes in reporting rather than changes in the underlying financial condition.
21	Exposure drafts are issued for comment and their proposals are subject to revision. Until the effective date of an IFRS, the requirements of any IFRS that would be affected by proposals in an exposure draft remain in force.	Updated: Exposure drafts are issued for comment and their proposals are subject to revision. Until the effective date of an IFRS Standard, the requirements of any IFRS Standard that would be affected by proposals in an exposure draft remain in force.
22	Language The approved text of any discussion document, exposure draft or IFRS is that approved by the IASB in the English language. The IASB may approve	Updated: Language The approved text of any discussion document, exposure draft or IFRS-Standard is that approved by the Board IASB in the translations in other languages, provided that the translation is prepared in accordance with a process that provides assurance of the quality of the translation, and the IASB may license other translations. English language. The Board IASB may approve translations in other languages, provided that the translation is prepared in accordance with a process that provides assurance of the quality of the translation, and the IASB Board may license other translations.