Engaging with Emerging Economies
Engaging emerging economies

- Engagement with emerging economies will be key to the success of the ISSB establishing a comprehensive global baseline of sustainability-related disclosure standards and has been highlighted by many stakeholders including the G20 Sustainable Finance Working Group

Recommendations on overcoming information challenges by improving sustainability reporting and disclosure

2. The International Sustainability Standards Board (ISSB) should develop a baseline global sustainability reporting standard while allowing flexibility for interoperability with national and regional requirements.
3. Start from climate and extend to other sustainability factors over time. The ISSB should take a ‘climate first’ approach in the near term, based on the Taskforce on Climate-related Financial Disclosures (TCFD) framework, in developing the reporting standards. However, the ISSB should develop standards covering other sustainability topics, which could include nature, biodiversity, and social issues.
4. Enhance efforts on capacity building for SMEs and emerging markets. While the standards to be developed by the ISSB may be adopted by a broad range of jurisdictions around the world as a global baseline for reporting, SMEs and emerging markets could benefit from additional capacity-building initiatives.
