This paper has been prepared for discussion at a public meeting of the Sustainability Standards Advisory Forum (SSAF). This paper does not represent the views of the International Sustainability Standards Board (ISSB) or any individual ISSB member. Any comments in the paper do not purport to set out what would be an acceptable or unacceptable application of IFRS® Sustainability Disclosure Standards. The ISSB’s technical decisions are made in public and are reported in the ISSB Update.
Purpose of this session

Purpose
Provide an update on the public IASB-ISSB joint meeting in January 2024 that included a paper on connectivity

Question for SSAF members
Do you have any comments or reflections in relation to the feedback received and the boards discussion on connectivity?

IASB and ISSB joint meeting

• In January 2024, the IASB and ISSB held their inaugural joint meeting in London.

• Objective of the meeting was to discuss the feedback on the ISSB's Request for Information on agenda priorities related to:
  • a potential project on integration in reporting (iIR)
  • connectivity¹

¹ The Request for Information described connectivity as a core activity and did not ask a question on connectivity or the types of work the ISSB should prioritise as part of connectivity activities. However, respondents provided feedback on connectivity, including on how the ISSB and IASB might work together, or in commenting on an integration in reporting project. This feedback is of interest to both boards in the light of their respective commitment to connectivity and in the context of their respective consideration of how they might work together.
Connecting IFRS Accounting and IFRS Sustainability

Connected information in general purpose financial reports
- Information about a company’s financial performance and financial position in financial statements
- Information about a company’s sustainability-related risks and opportunities in sustainability-related financial disclosures

Connected products
- IFRS Accounting Standards
- IFRS Sustainability Disclosure Standards

Connected working
- International Accounting Standards Board and its technical staff
- International Sustainability Standards Board and its technical staff

Article: Connectivity—what is it and what does it deliver?
Connectivity feedback

- Respondents supported connectivity and its importance, including connectivity in general purpose financial reports, in our requirements and in our processes.

- Respondents highlighted the importance of connectivity in requirements in providing decision useful information for primary users.

- Some asked for more connectivity and others highlighted areas in which additional guidance or education materials are needed to support connectivity.

- Others highlighted areas where collaboration between the ISSB and IASB would be important, for example the future IASB’s Intangibles project.
ISSB and IASB discussion on connectivity

• Shared understanding that connectivity is at the core of what the IASB and ISSB do

• Both boards’ continued commitment to connectivity regardless of which projects are prioritised in the ISSB’s next two-year work plan

• Various examples of connectivity in action (eg Technical Staff of both boards working together on various projects)
