This Profile provides information about the application of IFRS® Accounting Standards (Standards) in Guatemala. The Standards are developed and issued in the public interest by the International Accounting Standards Board (IASB). The IASB is the standard-setting body of the IFRS Foundation (Foundation), an independent, private sector, not-for-profit organisation.

The Foundation has prepared this Profile based on information from various sources. The starting point was the answers provided by standard-setting and other bodies in response to surveys the Foundation conducted on the application of the Standards around the world. The Foundation drafted the profile and invited the respondents to the survey. The Foundation also invited others (including regulators and international audit firms) to review the drafts. Their comments are reflected in this Profile.

The purpose of the Foundation’s Jurisdictional Profiles is to illustrate only the extent of implementation of the Standards across the globe. The Profiles do not reflect the intellectual property licensing status of the Standards within any given jurisdiction. The Standards are protected by copyright and are subject to licensing arrangements agreed upon within their jurisdiction. Has the jurisdiction made a public commitment towards IFRS Accounting Standards as that single set of high quality global accounting standards?	Yes. See above.

What is the jurisdiction's status of adoption? Additional comments provided on the adoption status?	IFRS Standards and the IFRS for SMEs Standard have been adopted by the CCPA for the financial statements of all companies. The CCPA's resolutions adopting IFRS Standards and the IFRS for SMEs Standard do not have the force of law. 'General Accepted Accounting Principles in Guatemala' according to the Código de Comercio (Guatemala Commercial Code Law) refers to 'Generally Accepted Accounting Principles in Guatemala', not specifically to IFRS Standards. Nor is 'Generally Accepted Accounting Principles in Guatemala' defined, though it is often interpreted to mean the tax law. Therefore, some companies do not follow IFRS Standards or the IFRS for SMEs Standard but, rather, prepare financial statements based on the tax law. Financial statements prepared in accordance with the tax law are regarded as special purpose financial statements. Currently, approximately 20 Guatemalan companies trade corporate bonds and other financial instruments in the national stock exchange (Bolsa de Valores Nacional, Sociedad Anónima, or BVNSA). They are permitted but not required to use full IFRS Standards. More information is available on the BVNSA's website. Many international companies from the US and Europe have branches in Guatemala that apply IFRS Standards, due to their home offices' requirements or the requirements of stock exchanges or lenders in their home countries. The banking regulator (Superintendencia de Bancos) requires the big debtors in the financial system in Guatemala (those with debts that exceed US$ 600,000) to present audited general purpose financial statements using either IFRS Standards or the IFRS for SMEs Standard. Under Guatemalan, banks, insurance companies, and other regulated financial enterprises are not allowed to present their financial statements based on IFRS. Instead, the banking regulator (Superintendencia de Bancos) has developed national accounting manuals that contain some differences from IFRS Standards. The corporate income tax law requires medium-sized and large companies to present audited financial statements as of December 31, annually in March. The tax authority (Superintendencia de Administración Tributaria, or SAT) allows companies to present their financial statements using income tax rules for calculating taxable income. These are regarded as special purpose financial statements. The tax authority will also accept financial statements prepared according to either full IFRS Standards or the IFRS for SMEs Standard.

By resolution of the CCPA, all SMEs in Guatemala that do not use full IFRS Standards are required to use the IFRS for SMEs Standard.
